

I am not sure what this page is about. This may be an old post that was never updated by the original author. The content probably no longer applies to the study of Spanish as a Second Language, since language courses are usually updated over time, but if you know for certain that it's an accurate and up-to-date article then please update it or remove it from this category.

The following is a list of the available lesson plans and activities related to the study of Spanish as a Second Language. Each lesson plan or activity may be selected and used individually by students, but may also be combined in any number of ways and accompanied by an unlimited number of other components (intended to supplement the selected lessons).
